

First in its series . . .

MEDILODGE OF RICHMOND

Hosts its Community Education Corner

Join us for a free education on understanding cardiac and vascular health presented by none other than Dr. Kazziha, a leading force in his field.

Date: Saturday March 24, 2018

Time: 11:00 am

Location: 34901 Division Road Richmond, MI 48062

Phone: 586-727-7562

Light refreshments will be offered as well as
as a meet and greet following the education.

"Heart Attack in the Making- Early Heart Attack Care"he will discuss

- 1. Anatomy and Physiology 101: Your Heart
- 2. A Heart Attack in Progress
- 3. Concepts of Early Heart Attack Care
- 4. Recognition and Intervention

Samer Y. Kazziha, MD, FACP, FACC, FSCAI, FCCP, FSVMB
Interventional Cardiology

Executive Director Cardiovascular Services, Ascension Crittenton Hospital

Program Director Interventional Cardiology Fellowship, Ascension Crittenton Hospital

Clinical Associate Professor Wayne State University School of Medicine

Dr. Kazziha takes great satisfaction in being able to provide the latest in treatment technology to those with cardiovascular disease.

Dr. Kazziha is the Executive Director of Cardiovascular Services and Program Director of the interventional cardiology fellowship at Ascension Crittenton Hospital Shelton Heart Center.

He is regionally recognized for his excellence in both clinical and administrative roles, and has developed cardiovascular programs at several hospital systems. Dr. Kazziha is a Clinical Associate Professor at the WSU School of Medicine. Besides his active teaching positions, he is involved in outreach community service to advance patient participation and understanding of cardiac and vascular care. Currently he is engaged in multiple research studies looking into improving clinical outcomes.